

Self Analysis

1. Game Analysis:

The analysis of games depending on the context. The table provides representation of the detailed games analysis categories and their sub-categories include sport type, platform, player metrics etc.

2. Sport Analysis:

The table provides a short summary of the various aspects to consider when analysing sports, where it includes sport names, performance calculation, coaching. This table contain all comprehensive list of sports featured int the Olympics.

3. Event Analysis:

The event table include all detailed information about the various event held during sport in Olympics. It is categories by gender like male, female and mix event. The table offer concise breakdown some fundamental components are analyze in events table in Olympics.

4. Participant Analysis:

The participant analysis table include details who are participated in Olympics sport with breakout their region, country, gender (male and female or mix) or games names.

5. Medal Analysis:

This table includes a small listing the different types of medal awarded at the Olympics including Gold, Silver, Bronze and N/A(Non Medal) among participating countries to understand pattern, strength and potential factor.

6. Regional Analysis:

Be analysing Olympics regional basis, one can gauge the performance dynamics of different parts of the world and uncover pattern, countries, medal count, top player, participation by each region.